Condition: The command receives an operations plan, or warning, operations or fragmentary order from higher headquarters and is exercising mission command. The commander issues guidance on managing the use and assignment of terrain. The command establishes communications with subordinate and adjacent units, and higher headquarters. The mission command system is operational and processing information. Perform this task in hours of daylight or limited visibility in various environmental conditions. The unit receives guidance on the rules of engagement. Perform some iterations of this task in mission oriented protective posture. Some iterations of this task should be performed in MOPP 4.

Standard: The staff manages the use and assignment of terrain so adequate space, including the use of routes, is available to support critical activities within the area of operations. The staff follows commanders guidance and standard operating procedures.

Safety Risk: Low

DANGER

Leaders have an inherent responsibility to conduct Composite Risk Management to ensure the safety of all Soldiers and promote mission accomplishment.

WARNING

Composite Risk Management is the Army's primary decision-making process to identify hazards, reduce risk, and prevent both accidental and tactical loss. All Soldiers have the responsibility to learn and understand the risks associated with this task.

CAUTION

Identifying hazards and controlling risks across the full spectrum of Army functions, operations, and activities is the responsibility of all Soldiers.

TASK STEPS

1. The Staff receives the mission and begins backwards-planning to determine terrain requirements, and which units require what space at what time.
2. The Staff designates terrain in the Area of Operation (AO):
  - a. Issues terrain to units by:
    - (1) Designating priority to units executing and supporting the decisive operation.
    - (2) Verifying adequate maneuver space is available for the decisive operation.
    - (3) Designating sufficient movement routes and supply routes (to include main supply routes) for maneuver and sustainment units assigned to the AO.
  - b. Tracks unit locations and land use within the AO.
  - c. Deconflicts land use within the AO.
3. The Staff manages terrain in the AO by:
  - a. Directing subordinate units to request permission to relocate outside of designated AOs.
  - b. Recommending to the commander the approval or disapproval of boundary changes requested by subordinate units.
  - c. Designating boundary changes, updating graphic control measures, and issuing orders accordingly.
  - d. Requesting necessary boundary changes within higher headquarters AO.
4. The Staff recognizes the sustainment units' unique terrain requirements when selecting locations.
5. The Staff assigns terrain and tracks external units within the AO when higher headquarters directs that another unit occupy the AO.

(Asterisks indicates a leader performance step.)

Environment: Environmental protection is not just the law but the right thing to do. It is a continual process and starts with deliberate planning. Always be alert to ways to protect our environment during training and missions. In doing so, you will contribute to the sustainment of our training resources while protecting people and the environment from harmful effects. Refer to FM 3-34.5 Environmental Considerations and GTA 05-08-002 ENVIRONMENTAL-RELATED RISK ASSESSMENT. .

Safety: In a training environment, leaders must perform a risk assessment in accordance with ATP 5-19, Risk Management. Leaders will complete the current Deliberate Risk Assessment Worksheet in accordance with the TRADOC Safety Officer during the planning and completion of each task and sub-task by assessing mission, enemy, terrain and weather, troops and support available-time available and civil considerations, (METT-TC). Note: During MOPP training, leaders must ensure personnel are monitored for potential heat injury. Local policies and procedures must be followed during times of increased heat category in order to avoid heat related injury. Consider the MOPP work/rest cycles and water replacement guidelines IAW FM 3-11.4, Multiservice Tactics, Techniques, and Procedures for Nuclear, Biological, and Chemical (NBC) Protection, FM 3-11.5, Multiservice Tactics, Techniques, and Procedures for Chemical, Biological, Radiological, and Nuclear Decontamination. .
